

Professor Ana Vlahek, PhD obtained her BA in Law in 2003 from the University of Ljubljana, Faculty of Law, by defending a thesis on the reform of EU competition law. She continued her education at the University of Ljubljana with doctoral studies in civil and commercial law, including short-term research and education visits to Cambridge, Cologne, and Salzburg, as well as an internship at the Higher Court in Ljubljana. In 2005, she was also an intern at UNCITRAL in Vienna. In 2009, she earned her doctorate degree at the University of Ljubljana on the subject of the transfer of ownership rights in movable property within the European legal environment.

Since 2003, she has been employed at the University of Ljubljana and currently holds the positions of Full Professor of Civil and Commercial Law and Associate Professor of European Law. At the Faculty of Law of the University of Ljubljana, she teaches various subjects (including EU Law, Collective Actions in the EU, Judicial Remedies in the EU, Commercial Law and Procedure, Insolvency Law, and Property Law), and has also lectured at other faculties of the University of Ljubljana as well as at universities abroad. For over 20 years, she has been mentoring very successful teams from the University of Ljubljana in international student competitions such as the Willem C. Vis Moot Court in International Commercial Arbitration (2002-2004), the European Law Moot Court (2003-2007, 2013-present), and the Central and East Europe Moot Competition (2003-present), where she also serves as a judge and arbitrator. During the period from 2023 to 2026, she holds an Erasmus+ Jean Monnet Teaching Module titled Collective Actions in the EU.

Since 2008, Professor Vlahek has been a researcher at the Institute of Comparative Law at the Faculty of Law in Ljubljana. She is author of several books and academic articles, and has delivered papers at conferences both at home and abroad. She has been active in several national and international law projects (including the Slovenian Research Agency project on the Reform of arbitration law in the Republic of Slovenia from 2004 to 2007) and in the preparation of Slovenian legislation (the Arbitration Act, the Act on Mediation in Civil and Commercial Matters, the Collective Actions Act, and the transposition of the Antitrust Damages Directive into the Act on Prevention of Restriction of Competition). Her recent research focuses on collective actions, enforcement of competition law, relationships related to infrastructure networks, functional land, and international sales contract. She is the vice-president of the Slovenian Ministry of Justice's Commission for Issuing and Revoking Insolvency Administrators' Licenses. She collaborates with UNCITRAL as a contributor to the CLOUT database.
